

Tina Nightingale

Biography

Tina is a specialist in medical communications, medical education and market access. During her twenty-three-year career with GlaxoSmithKline (GSK), Tina spent a significant amount of time writing, copy-editing and proofreading industry and clinical documentation including abstracts and posters for international congresses. Tina also had responsibility for the copy-creation and content management of the GSK Joint Working website. Tina is fully trained in the use of Zinc and is ABPI certified.

Since leaving GSK, Tina has undertaken supplementary editorial training via the Society for Editors and Proofreaders (SfEP) and is a member of the European Medical Writers Association (EMWA).

When Tina isn't working, you'll find her enjoying her growing family or cooking up a storm in the kitchen. A keen cyclist, she enjoys both road riding and mountain biking. She also has a passion for Formula 1 Grand Prix.

Tina provides voluntary editorial support for a local community publication, The Goring Gap News.
